PUDO Enters into Partnership with Niagara-based Avondale Food Stores

Canada's first pick-up and drop-off service available in more than 90 new locations

TORONTO, Ontario, December 29, 2015 – PUDO Inc. (“PUDO”) (CSE: PDO; OTCQB: PDPTF), continued to expand its partner network today with the announcement of a new three-year deal with Avondale Food Stores to create additional PUDO Point™ locations in Niagara and Hamilton regions.

PUDO’s rapidly growing PUDO Point™ network allows more customers to tailor pick-ups and drop-offs of their online purchases to fit their busy schedules. PUDO members simply shop online through PUDO’s affiliate portal, and they can use a PUDO Point™ address for their “not-at-home” deliveries. This means Canadians can pick up their parcels at their nearest Avondale Food Store or other dealer locations later in the evening and on weekends.

“We are excited to be working with Avondale, a trusted brand name in the area, which is highly respected by its customers,” said Frank Coccia, Chief Executive Officer, PUDO Inc. “By establishing a PUDO Point™ in each of Avondale’s locations, customers have more options for delivery services, including 24-hour access in some locations.”

“Our customers are our neighbours so it is important that we provide them with the best services possible,” said Larry Stewart, President, Avondale Food Stores. “We always strive to meet the needs of our community and this partnership with PUDO allows our customers to access their parcels at times that are most convenient.”

PUDO currently has more than 5,000 PUDO Point™ dealers signed up across North America, and a network that continues to grow each day with dealers becoming operational. For these dealers, PUDO provides opportunities for additional foot traffic and the potential for repeat customer business. As the last mile delivery solution for e-commerce purchases, PUDO has created affiliate agreements with some of North America’s most well-known retailers, including Amazon, eBay, Hudson’s Bay and Walmart to ensure customers never miss a home delivery again.
